LOCAL.

—No electric lights to-night.

—Train left Red Deer on time.

—The weather to-day has moderated considerably.

—C. W. Sutter, immigration agent, went to Ponoka this morning.

—Smart's rink from Calgary played through the entire hospital here without losing a game.

—Williamson's delivery horse joined the ranks of runaway Saturday evening but escaped serious accidents.

—The Calgary Brewing cup, won two years by Edmonton hockey team, is on exhibition in E. Rayner's window.

—Another runaway occurred last evening. This time it was Dodge's brand delivery outfit. No serious damage is reported.

—H. Asley will be postmaster of a new post office to be opened shortly at his farm. The name of the post office will be Asleyville.

—A gentleman reports having observed a large flock of robins on second street west last Sunday and predicted mild weather for the remainder of the winter.

—Work on the new Windsor Hotel, is being rushed to completion. Macintosh & Campbell are supplying the furniture and A. Bruce Powley the silverware.

—Johnnie Dietz, George Dietz and Kasper Schone with their wives and families arrived on Monday night from Southern Russia to settle in Stony Plain district.

—Edmonton junior seven will play a return hockey match this evening with Strathcona juniors at 7:30 on Strathcona rink. Edmonton, boys playing are: Goal, C. Matheson; goal, R. Johnston; cover point, Arnold Johnston; forward, Roy Powell; forwards, J. McKeown, Donald Ross and J. Gauthier.

—And still the rush of runaway horses keeps up. This morning the police team of blacks gave an exhibition of speed without a driver as they shot westward along Jasper avenue. They were carrying little more than the run and returned while with frozen team.

—Business men complain bitterly of parties selling tobacco juice on their street windows during the night.

—Should the police interview the offenders the joke will probably be reversed.

—The Athabasca stage came in Saturday night and left this morning. Hands are good.

—M. McCauley, of Tofield, is in town to-day.

—W. H. Cushing, of Calgary, is in town to-day.

—Temperature yesterday, max. 25, to-day, min. 2.65.

—Rev. Father Leduc went to Hon-bena this morning.

—Rev. Father Jan went to Coujuring Creek this morning.

—Rev. G. P. Vetter came in from Fort Saskatchewan yesterday.

—A load of crated rails of steel going down the steep incline from the Edmonton hotel to the station, upset this morning almost on top of the rails.

—A meeting of the committee of the Old Timers' Association is called for Saturday evening at the council chamber.

—The annual meeting of the Edmonton Public Hospital will be held in the council chamber Monday next at 8 p. m.

—A fancy dress carnival will be held on Thistle rink Thursday evening and will be supplemented by a hockey match, Old Maids vs. Old Bachelors.

—The Edmonton District Telephone Co. are issuing a revised set of subscribers list books, also a set of cards which can be taken to the wall beside the phone. Subscribers will be given their choice of a book or card for reference.

IMPLEMENTS DUTIES COMPARED

H. W. Hutchinson, manager of the Fairchild Implement Company, Winnipeg, recently delivered a most interesting address before the Winnipeg implement men's association. In the course of his address he gave a comparison between the duties on farm implements coming into Canada during several periods of different rates of duty. Mr. Hutchinson said:

"Speaking of the rates of duties that have been paid during the past 20 years I am obliged to group them into periods of five years from 1880. They are as follows:

Article.	1880-1895.
Farm implements,	25
Farm wagons,	25
Threshing machines,	25
Carriages,	30
Binder twine,	15

Article.	1885-1890.
Farm implements,	25
Farm wagons, under $30, $10 each, and,	25
Farm wagons, over $30, 15 each, and,	20
Threshing machines,	35
Carriages, under $50, $10 each and over,	30
Binder twine, 11-14c per lb. and,	10

Article.	1890-1895.
Farm implements,	20
Farm wagons,	25
Threshing machines,	30
Carriages, costing $50, $5 each, and over,	35
Carriages, costing over $50,	35
Binder twine, 11-14c per lb. and,	10

Article.	1895-1902.
Farm implements,	20
Farm wagons,	25
Threshing machines,	25
Carriages,	25
Binder twine,	10c

The period from 1885 to 1890 covers the reduction of the miscalculated national policy when duties were at their highest. And the period from 1895 to 1902 covers the revision made by the liberal government. The difference is:

1887-1897	1895-1902
Farm wagons,	35 20
Farm wagons, $10 to $15 and 20 per cent or about say, 40	25
Threshing machines,	35 25
Carriages, $10 to $15 and 20 per cent or say,	40 35
Binder twine, 11-14c per lb., and 10 per cent equal to,	20 Free

Under the revised national policy of 1891 farm implements that are binders, mowers, etc., were reduced to 20 per cent. Farm wagons to 25; threshers to 20; carriages to $5 special and 25 per cent, or 35 per cent. Binder twine remained at 11-14c a pound and 10 per cent.

There is a very radical difference between the wanted national policy tariff, and that now prevailing, but there is not so much between the revised national policy tariff and the present. When conservative orators exploit the national policy they refer to the tariff of 1887. But when they attack the liberal or bring false to their pledges in no reducing the tariff more they make their comparisons with the revised tariff.

In considering the merits of this question as between the parties it would be well to remember that the reductions for which the conservatives claim credit were made in response to the claims against the practical national policy and in preparation for the then pending general elections. But the country considered it only as a death bed repentance and turned them down all the same, in the elections of 1897. The agitation against high tariff carried on by the liberals was aimed at the tariff before it was revised, and was the direct cause of the revision; just as much as the return of the 10 to 15 to power was because of the further reductions that have been made.

The tariff agitation now being fanned by the manufacturers' association, ably aided by Hon. Mr. Tarte in the House and a number of other so-called liberals, is not for a return to the tariff of 1890-1895, nor even to that of 1887. The tariff of 1897 was expressly protective, but the present agitation is so avowedly for a prohibitive tariff, which would naturally be considerably higher. It is not a question of how much duty the farmer might be willing to pay or could be made to pay. It is a question of how much the duty would need to be to prevent him from buying the imported article.

The Minister and the Combine.

When the minister of interior was in Winnipeg recently a deputation of grain dealers waited upon him with the following remonstrance:
That the operation of the Manitoba Grain Act, as now in force, is detrimental to the best interests of the country in restricting and interfering in trade and commerce, and is manifestly unfair to those in the grain trade, who have capital invested in elevators and we, therefore, request that the Dominion government have such legislation enacted at the coming session of parliament as will remove such restrictions and make the operations of said act fair and equitable to all.

Hon. Mr. Sifton's reply is reported as follows:

"He was bound to say that there was a question of sudden transposition. He had been accused of conspiring with the elevator men against the farmers, but now he was said to be responsible, along with the farmer, in putting the elevator men out of business. A good deal of forbearance was necessary on the part of both farmer and elevator man. He had, during several years past been instrumental in bringing in legislation tending to meet the situation. Those who had met him in Ottawa would understand that what he wished was fair play. The present question was brought with great difficulties, but during the past two years the community had been brought face to face with a situation which has resulted in the passing of the present act. He thought the matter should be treated plainly. He had a great regard for the members of the grain trade and they were entitled to the same consideration at the hands of the government as other business men, but the farmer was also entitled to consideration. But when the grain grower comes to parliament and says he has objections to having his wheat go through the hands of middlemen and losing six or seven cents a bushel, that parliament or any parliament, would not be justified in putting the farmer in a position where he loses his legal profit.

"No body of men such as the elevator men could expect that legislation would be passed that would compel the farmer to ship his grain through elevators, when by so doing he loses money. He had misgivings about the present legislation and when the matter was clearly put before parliament, it had been thought that it was only fair to the farmer.

"If the present transportation facilities were better, Mr. Sifton was not sure but that the situation would be much improved, and in time would right itself. The only solution was a tremendous increase in these facilities. The minister hoped that Mr. Love had not referred to him when stating that the deputation from the association had not received fair treatment. He did all he could, though what the other members of the house had done he did not know. At the next session of the house any deputation from the Grain Dealers' association would have the fullest opportunity to be heard on the subject, but he was not prepared to say that the house would necessarily adopt their views. He thought the railway companies had completely failed to meet the situation in the west through completely failing to comprehend the wants of the country, and the great difficulty, not only of the grain men, but also of other business men was that such a condition of affairs was greatly due to lack of adequate transportation facilities. He appreciated fully the significance of all that had been said by the members of the association, and would do everything in his power to have the question solved in the most satisfactory manner."

WHITFORD

Andrew Bremner had the misfortune to lose three valuable horses last week.

Mrs. James Brown, who has been sick since October, underwent an operation last week, and all last reports was doing well. Drs. Smith and Taughton were in attendance.

Dances have made the rounds of Whitford, but the most brilliant affair was held at the home of G. Woolley, where a good number enjoyed the fantastic too till the small hours of the morning. A party from Edmonton got up the event.

Misses Kennedy and Fraser have been enjoying New Year with the new merchant, Mr. E. Carg.

Mr. Toubey, from Calgary, has been through our locality and purchased nearly all the steers in the Vermilion.

S. A. Richardson is using his engine on the chop mill and has chopped for a good many in the vicinity.

Meers, Hughson's wind mill is running night and day doing splendid work for the ranchers, chopping oats and barley for feed.

On Jan. 6th, a few friends met at the hotel, Andrew, to give a farewell supper to Mr. Geo. Disher, who has successfully taught the Whitford school for three years, and who now will take in charge the school at Tindastoll, Inuitfall. A good company sat down to supper put up in Mr. Woolley's best style. After the table had been cleared, Thomas Hall was called to the chair. In rising he said he felt not equal to the occasion, as he performed the duties of office, explaining why they had met to do honour to their departing friend, who, he knew, would be much missed from the locality. Yet if it were Whitford's loss it would be Tindastoll's gain.

In concluding he proposed the toast to the "King," which was heartily joined in.

Next, "To Our Guest,"

Mr. Disher said he was surprised to know that he had made so many friends and was held in such esteem by the community and felt sure he would often remember them.

Recitation, Mr. Buchanan, "Oh Sir,"

Toast, "Mounted Police," proposed by Harry Fraser.

Replied to by Constable Wait and T. Hall.

Next, "To The Bachelors,"

The chairman replying holding forth the pleasures of Bachelorism, but as he was pretty near the last one left at Egg Lake, he often felt picked at by some of the last married ones.

Song, Geo. Wille, "Sweet-Kathleen,"

Next, "Trustees of Whitford school," James Hamilton, chairman, of the board, replied, regretting that their guest was leaving them remarking how the board and Mr. Disher had always worked together in unison and wished him success in his new school.

Mr. Minnie also replied.

Song, Mr. Linklater.

Next, "Citizens of Egg Lake,"

T. Hall replying said when he came to Egg Lake, there were only four or five houses between Fort Saskatchewan and Egg Lake, now every quarter section had a settler, transferring it from a wilderness to bring forth and blossom as the rose.

R. Stewart also spoke of the prosperity of Egg Lake.

Song, "For he's a jolly good fellow," the company all standing.

Good-bys were said, everyone going home, having spent one of the most eventful nights on Egg Lake.

Mr. Disher and Mr. Hamilton left for Edmonton in the morning.

EAST

Quite a number of our residents are working across the lake getting out logs for lumber, building timber, etc. The lake is quite a safe place.

The annual meeting of our school district passed off quietly. There was a good deal of talk about opposition to the re-election of John D. McAllister as trustee, but it ended in talk. Mr. McAllister as trustee of S. D. No. 222, and as overseer of L. T. D. No. 403, is "all right." The annual meeting of the latter district comes off on Saturday, Jan. 24th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

If M. McCullum has been re-engaged as teacher for 1904, and the school is to be open the whole year, Mr. McCullum has given good satisfaction during the past year, and is a conscientious, painstaking teacher.

Mr. Davis, who had D. A. McCallum's farm rented last year, has gone to reside on his own claim near Sick Man's Lake.

Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Rae, necessitating Mr. Rae's absence, we have had no regular service here as usual.

Mrs. J. B. Steele and children are away visiting at Hugh McKay's, near Edmonton.

Boys' Clothing

That Interests Parents.

Every parent knows just how hard his boy is on clothes and we add that few fathers or mothers in reality care if their boys are a little rough in their play and clothes don't wear quite so long as they may have at first expected, for no right minded person likes an effeminate boy, for it is the sturdy, rough and ready little fellows who develop into the most useful class of Canadian citizenship. Our caution is—don't pay too much for boys' clothes, but get them good clothes at a fair price from a reputable firm which does not hesitate to replace with a new suit any which does not wear well. Now that the school season has opened again, the boy may need a new suit, nor can you make more advantageous investment than by the saving you make for these necessities at
